The requirement for dancers to carry props in one trip, both on and off the stage, remains unchanged.

- Makeup and costumes must be suitable for the dancer's age, gender, and the nature of the discipline. They should never be offensive to the audience or other participants. Music must also align with the dancer's age group, with explicit sexual lyrics and guttural sounds prohibited. Dancers must be mindful of the lyrical content of their music selections.
- Teachers and choreographers should exercise caution in selecting themes for children and juniors, avoiding themes involving suggestive movements or violent content.
- Religious or political symbols used in costumes or decorations should be appropriate to the theme and choreography, maintaining good taste and avoiding offense to others. Personal jewelry should be limited unless integral to the costume.
- Any infractions of the rules regarding costumes, makeup, movements, or themes should be promptly addressed if warned by the Head Judge. Failure to rectify the infraction may result in penalties for the competitor in subsequent rounds.
- Costumes must ensure coverage of the dancer's intimate areas throughout the entire performance. Intimate parts include the buttocks, bust, and pubic areas. These areas must be covered with non-transparent material of any color, except tan or flesh color. Transparent material used must be lined with non-transparent material.

4 DANCE DISCIPLINES

4.1 SHOW DANCE

- Characteristics and Movement: Show Dance does not possess its own distinct dance technique. It is broadly rooted in Ballet, Jazz, and/or Modern and Contemporary dance techniques. While it is not obligatory, Show Dance compositions may incorporate various elements from these dance disciplines. Additionally, other dance forms such as Disco Dance, Hip-Hop, Electric Boogie, Break Dance/Breaking, Tap Dance, as well as artistic sports like acrobatics and gymnastics, can be integrated, albeit they should not overshadow the routine. Evaluation must adhere to the standards set forth by International Dance Open, and Judges must be well-versed in these criteria.
- Show Dance permits the utilization of lifts (excluding Baby and Mini Kids age category, 2.10 LIFTS), props (2.11 PROPS), lip-syncing, and other theatrical effects.
- Every Show Dance choreography must exhibit a concept, whether it be a guiding theme, a narrative, or a visible idea aimed at entertaining, captivating, evoking emotion, and/or conveying a message to the audience.
- The performance must be titled, and the concept, story, or theme must be fully comprehensible, conveyed through dance movements that align with the piece being presented, while also showcasing creativity, imagination, and originality.
- Acrobatic movements are permitted and these movements will be evaluated based on show criteria and should never dominate the performance but rather harmonize with the overarching idea or theme.
- Evaluation criteria include musicality, diversity of dance styles and patterns, originality, overall performance, and individual choreography. It is crucial to achieve harmony among the concept, music, dance, choreography, costume, and props in the presentation, as the overall image will be considered during performance assessment.
- Groups and formations will be evaluated as cohesive units. While solo, duo, or ensemble segments may be included, they should not overshadow the overall performance.
- In cases where modern gymnastic movements overshadow a performance, a significant reduction in points within the technique dimension should ensue.

Props

- Hand Props encompass objects carried by hand and not integrated into the costume, such as bells, flags, canes, umbrellas, and similar items.
- Floor Props refer to objects placed on the floor, such as chairs, stairs, ladders, tables, and comparable items.
- Scenic Backgrounds and Backdrops include scenic curtains, flats, or other scenery elements.

4.2 JAZZ DANCE

- Characteristics and Movement: Jazz Dance Styles encompass a rich history, ranging from Primitive Jazz rooted in African Folk Dances to Contemporary Jazz influenced by modern musicians. Today's Jazz Dance incorporates diverse styles and tempos, including Lyrical Jazz, which combines Jazz and Ballet techniques to interpret music and evoke emotion through movement.
- Jazz Dance embodies a diverse array of artistic expressions, with the mentioned variations serving as illustrative examples within this category.
- The routine must exclusively comprise Jazz elements, incorporating Jazz technique, turns, jumps, isolations, stretches, port de bras, and movements of the legs and upper body. Evaluation will also account for timing and rhythm.
- Acrobatic Movements: Within Jazz Dance, limited acrobatics are permissible under the condition that a body part remains in contact with the floor, or a dancer receives support from a partner in duo/group formations (excluding Baby and Mini Kids categories, 2.10 LIFTS). It is emphasized that acrobatics should not overshadow the routine.
- A Jazz dance routine can be based on the pure technique of the dance discipline and may contain a story or a theme. Choreography is musically driven with an emphasis on polyrhythm and improvisation. Dependent on preserving historical roots of the discipline while leaving room for innovation.
- Lip-sync is not allowed in Jazz Dance.

Props

Hand, stage, and floor props are permitted under specific guidelines:

These accessories can be removed or exchanged during the routine but should not be left on the stage after the performance. Dancers must pick up any discarded items before leaving the stage.
- Hand Props: Props such as canes, umbrellas, handbags, and flags are allowed if they are integral to the routine and utilized throughout the performance. They may be placed on the floor temporarily but should not be left unused. Hand props cannot be used as floor props. For instance, dancers cannot leave a hand prop on the floor throughout the routine without incorporating it into their performance.
- Floor Props: Necessary items such as chairs, stools, boxes, or ladders may be brought onto the stage by a dancer in one trip. These props must play an essential role in the routine and be used throughout the performance. Decorative items are not permitted. Dancers are responsible for removing the floor prop from the stage at the end of the routine.
- Scenic or Stage Props: Items like scenic backgrounds, backdrops, or trees used to enhance the stage or create a scene are not allowed.

- The music must not contain prerecorded taps.
- Personal amplification devices are not permitted.
- The use of a cappella or tacet (silence) in any routine must not exceed 30 seconds. This absence of music should be within the music itself and not at the beginning or end. "Stop Time" refers to a silent part of a measure with some notes played, while "A Capella" is a longer silent phrase devoid of any music, both limited to 30 seconds.

- Props – 2.11 PROPS
- Acrobatic Movements that are an integral part of the routine are permitted (except in Baby and Mini Kids categories, 2.10 LIFTS), but will not enhance the dancer's score.

- Aerial tricks are permitted in all age divisions except BABY and MINI KIDS, where tricks are allowed only if a body part remains in contact with the floor.

Modern dance is a more relaxed, free style of dance in which choreographer's uses emotions and moods to design their own steps, in contrast to ballet's structured code of steps. It has a deliberate use of gravity, whereas ballet strives to be light and airy. This particular dance discipline concerns using modern dancing techniques that were created for the most part during the first half of the 20th century by renowned dance teachers and choreographers, /e.g. Martha Graham, José Limon, Alvin Ailey, Merce Cunningham, Lester Horton, Kurt Jooss, Mary Wigman, Hanya Holm and others.

- Characteristics and Movement: Modern dance routines should be characterized by the use of modern dance techniques and contemporary trends. It can be performed barefoot, en pointe or in socks on stage. This category will also include the new commercial American contemporary styles, as seen in works by Mia Michaels, Sonya Tayeh and Erica Sobol.

It focuses on communication and expression through non-choreographic movements influenced by compositional philosophy.
- Musicality: Similar to modern dance, contemporary dance allows for diverse music choices, including acapella options. Music should complement the choreography and contribute to the overall emotional impact of the performance. It may or may not be performed to music, sounds or nothing at all except the counts or breath of the dancers.
- Acrobatics and Lifts: While acrobatic movements may be incorporated, they should not dominate the dance, and gymnastic lines are prohibited. Lifts are permitted (except in Baby and Mini Kids categories) but should be used sparingly and in a way that enhances the choreography without overshadowing it.

Performances may feature a variety of musical styles, including contemporary pop, ballads, or instrumental pieces, as long as they support the emotional narrative of the dance.
- Acrobatics and Lifts: While acrobatic movements may be integrated into routines, they should complement the emotional expression of the dance rather than overshadowing it. Lifts are commonly used in lyrical dance to enhance storytelling and emotional impact, but they should be executed with sensitivity to the overall theme and mood of the performance. Lifts are prohibited in Baby and Mini Kids categories.
- Props and Backgrounds: Stage props may be used sparingly in lyrical dance to enhance the narrative or visual aesthetics of the performance. However, backgrounds should be minimal or nonexistent to maintain focus on the dancers and their emotional expression.

Majorettes with staffs must wear classic uniforms with boots, caps, dresses, or blazers with skirts.
- Choreography and Music: Routines must be appropriate for family viewing. Approved choreography, costuming, and music must be used. Excessive vulgar or suggestive movements, words, costuming, or music will lead to disqualification. These rules aim to ensure fair and consistent evaluation while maintaining the integrity and family-friendly nature of majorette performances.
